

ALLIES ACCEPT PROPOSALS MADE ON REPARATIONS

Suggestions by Secre- tary Hughes Please Nations

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (A.P.)—Word that France, Italy and Belgium had accepted British proposals that an international commission of experts be formed to study Germany's economic situation and capacity to pay brought hope today to Washington officials that at last a step had been taken toward adjustment of the vexing reparations problem.

It was clear that some official announcement from London was expected to show the extent to which an agreement had been reached. And it was said authoritatively that so far as the situation had developed during the day it appeared certain that American experts named with the approval of the Washington government would sit as members of the commission.

The American position with respect to participation in such a movement is stated by Secretary Hughes in reply to Lord Curzon's communication of Oct. 13. Since the United States is not a party to the treaty he pointed out, it cannot participate officially in the activities of the reparations commission.

"The secretary of state has no doubt however," Mr. Hughes added, "that competent American citizens would be willing to participate in an economic inquiry for the purposes stated, thru an advisory body appointed by the reparations commission to make recommendations."

To Consult Nations

Should the indicated acceptance result in the formation of such an advisory commission of experts not only the American members but those representing the allied governments probably would be appointed only with the approval of their respective governments as the proposition is understood here. It was pointed out that not only would the powers naturally reserve this right in agreeing to the plan, but that in European countries as in America it was improbable that any man of the type needed, if the advice of the commission is to carry weight, would accept an invitation to becoming a member without first being certain that his government consented.

Secretary Hughes recognized when he proposed an economic inquiry as to Germany's condition nearly a year ago that it would be difficult to keep that study within the field of pure economics and uninfluenced by the political cross currents that have made a tangled web about the whole reparations question.

It was because of this view that an administration spokesman in a characterized the expert commission plan today as no more than a "bridge" which should be substantial across which might lie the road to a solution of the problem. It was added however, that if an agreement to convene such an inquiry is to be realized there is at least a ray of hope at last in the tangle of world affairs.

England Pleased

London, Oct. 26.—America's decision to lend her advice and co-operation in a conference for the settlement of the German reparations muddle seems to have lighted Europe out of the slough of depression.

Secretary Hughes' prompt and decisive response to Marquis Curzon's plea for American assistance has given impetus to a situation which has heretofore been marked by utter inertia and for the first time today British officials began to see a rift in the mists which have so long enveloped the problem.

America's voice, stressing the imperative need of finding a suitable financial plan to prevent economic disaster in Europe found prompt echoes in Paris, Brussels and Rome, for it became known late this afternoon that the British foreign office, that France, Belgium and Italy had all accepted the plan.

BRITISH STATESMAN PAYS RESPECTS TO SECRETARY OF STATE

Makes Pilgrimages to Many Historical Places

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (A.P.)—While David Lloyd George, wartime premier of Great Britain, devoted today, his second day in Washington, chiefly to pilgrimages to Arlington National Cemetery and Mount Vernon and to call upon the disabled soldiers at Walter Reed hospital, public questions did not escape his attention. The reparations situation, in the light of latest developments attracted interest and tonight he conferred with Secretary Hughes at the latter's home for an hour.

Invited to Mr. Hughes' residence an hour in advance of others who attended a dinner given in honor of the distinguished visitor the two had opportunity to discuss questions in which they are mutually interested. Although no statement was made concerning the reparations question, as well as other matters of public interest were discussed.

Reparation Question

In conferences with newspaper correspondents he spoke hopefully of the reparations situation and indicated that on the basis of latest advice from Europe he believed a distinct advance had been made toward a solution of the problem. Once an investigation is begun into Germany's capacity to pay, he declared, he would be hopeful of a successful outcome.

At both Arlington and Mount Vernon, Mr. Lloyd George paid homage to the memory of American dead.

Going late in the day in company with Secretary Weeks to Walter Reed hospital, he passed thru wards in which disabled war veterans lay quietly and at the Red Cross auditorium met others who had gathered to greet him.

Expresses Thanks

Speaking in a low voice and with every evidence of deep emotion, the wartime premier thanked them for their contribution "to the freedom of Europe and the freedom of the world."

He wished to thank them, he reiterated, "personally as one who was in charge of the resources of the British empire" in most critical anxious days.

"I can't tell you the feeling I had when I heard you were coming," he said.

Lloyd George will leave by automobile early tomorrow for a visit to Gettysburg and after returning will speak tomorrow night at a dinner of overseas writers, an organization of Washington newspaper correspondents.

CLAIM ACTIVE FRENCH SUPPORT WAS AID TO RHINELAND REPUBLIC

Separatists Assisted by Po- lice of France and Belgium

COBLENZ, Oct. 26. (A.P.)—Open and active French support enabled the Rhineland Republic today to extend its hold over a number of small towns and villages. French and Belgian troops enlarged their holding activities and quickly suppressed disorders growing out of attempts by the Loyalists to throw out the Separatist groups.

Joseph Matthes and his supporters in the Separatist movement still hold Coblenz, which became the capital of the new republic overnight when the French military curfew kept Loyalists off the streets while the Separatists who previously had been driven from the town returned and marched down the streets past the French sentries and took over the government buildings.

The French representatives known as the superior delegates of the interallied high commission have been active in establishing or re-establishing new governments in various small towns. The Republicans are immediately accorded de facto recognition by the French and Belgians, who aid them in maintaining order.

Support Government

The Separatists have brought upon themselves the united opposition of the Nationalists and Communists. The mass of the population is supporting the normal government, but under the Franco-Belgian military policy of disarming the police the old officials have been unable to defend themselves.

The French communiques have revealed much dissatisfaction with the Separatists at several points, but it said the French delegates have been able to strengthen the Republican position in various ways. Rumors that violent reactions were due today were current, but as far as is known tonight all outbreaks were put down promptly.

Much fear is expressed, however, regarding conditions next week, when unemployment will be greatly increased and the food problem develops. The French report that the free distribution of food already has commenced at Duisburg.

AMBASSADOR TO GREAT BRITAIN HAS BEEN NAMED

Former U. S. Senator from Minnesota is Selection

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Frank B. Kellogg, former United States Senator from Minnesota, has been selected by President Coolidge as American ambassador to Great Britain. Formal announcement is withheld for the present but the appointment is expected to become effective soon.

News that Mr. Kellogg had been chosen to succeed George Harvey whose resignation recently was accepted created a stir at the capital. Senators generally declined to comment on the selection but some of them made little effort to conceal their surprise. Heretofore Mr. Kellogg's name had not been mentioned prominently in connection with the ambassadorship.

White House and state department officials declined to discuss the selection, but the only comment at the White House being that the president felt the time had not yet come when an announcement of the appointment could be made.

Kellogg's Service.

After a service of six years in the senate, Mr. Kellogg was a candidate for re-election last November but was defeated by 80,000 votes in the political upheaval in the northwest which swept two Farmer-Labor senators into office from his state and resulted in the election from other states of senators who have been prominent in the non-Partisan League. Thruout his political life Mr. Kellogg has stood against these political tendencies. He has been a regular of the regulars in the Republican party and was a close personal friend of the late President Harding.

To Represent West.

President Coolidge from the first has been determined to appoint a Western man to the Court of St. James. At the time when the names of Elihu Root of New York and Speaker Gillette, of the house of representatives, whose home is in Massachusetts, were among those mentioned in connection with the post friends of the president insisted that he was looking to section other than the east. There were reports then that former governor Lowden of Illinois might get the appointment.

Unlike Ambassador Harvey who is regarded as a bitter enemy in the league of nations controversy, Mr. Kellogg was counted among the "mild reservationists" in the senate fight over the treaty of Versailles. He also was a supporter in the senate and since his retirement of President Harding's proposal for American participation in the world court.

NATION'S CHILDREN FOME FROM FARMS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The nation's crop of children comes mainly from the farms no less than the food crops, according to Dr. C. J. Galpin, in charge of the department of agriculture which announced today the intention of a program looking toward the development of modern institutions in rural communities.

REQUISITION FOR GUNMAN IS ISSUED

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 26.—Governor Len Small tonight issued a requisition on the governor of Indiana for the return of Walter Stevens, alleged Chicago gunman, to Illinois. The governor's action was taken following a hearing in which executive clemency was asked for Stevens. The requisition papers will be presented to Governor McCray of Indiana, tomorrow. If honored Stevens will be taken to Joliet penitentiary to serve a sentence of from one to fourteen years for shooting an Aurora policeman two years ago.

Stevens is now in jail at Crown Point, Ind. He was represented at the hearing by Representative Lee O'Neill Browne of Ottawa, Brown asked clemency for his client. State's Attorney C. L. Abbott, of Kane county, told the governor the ends of justice could only be met by the return of the prisoner to Illinois.

Twenty Two Charges In Impeachment Bill

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 26.—(A. P.)—Governor J. C. Walton today was ordered to trial before a senate court of impeachment on November 1, on official misconduct charges presented by the lower house of the state legislature.

The senate set the trial date to conform to the law allowing the governor six days in which to file his answer to the allegations and enter a plea. It was said however, that should the executive reply to the senate before the trial immediately would be started.

Date for the arraignment was set immediately after a board of house managers had presented to the court a bill embodying 22 charges, the entire number drafted by the house committee on investigation and impeachment.

The house completed its bill after five days of consideration. The eight articles completed today charged the governor with issuing state police commissions to large numbers of irresponsible persons.

COMMITTEE ON DEEP WATERWAYS CONVENES IN VICKSBURG, MISS.

Interchange Between Boats and Railroads is Suggested

VICKSBURG, Miss., Oct. 26.—Witnesses who appeared here today before the special senate committee on deeper waterways voiced unanimous approval of the proposed deep waterways project as a means of promoting river transportation and bettering shipping conditions. Coupled with the declaration of each witness however, attention was called to the importance of the continuation of flood control measures recently authorized by congress. Further development of the government-owned barge line was endorsed by Alexander Fitzhugh, a wholesale grocer who urged the need of an interchange arrangement between the water carrier and the railroads in the establishment of adequate terminal facilities.

"In transit" rates also should be developed as a means of aiding shippers to take advantage of water transportation," he said and he offered a detailed explanation of benefits to shippers under such an arrangement.

"But any benefit we derive from improved waterways would be dependent upon protection of our lands from the floods which sweep down the Mississippi from states up the country," he added. Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, acting chairman of the committee explained congress has recommended the need of flood control and called attention to the fact that an appropriation of $56,000,000 for this purpose was provided at the last session of congress with only one dissenting vote.

CLAIMS CONTRACT PROPERLY OBTAINED

Seattle, Wn., Oct. 26.—Any suggestion that a contract to construct the American Lake Veterans' Hospital near Tacoma had been improperly obtained by the Hurley-Macon company of Tacoma was absolutely false and never had any foundation in fact," asserted Charles B. Hurley, president of the company in a statement published today by the Seattle Times.

BIG PAY REDUCTION

Butte, Mont., Oct. 26.—Notices of a fifty per cent reduction in day's pay were posted at all mining properties in Butte, Anaconda and Great Falls today. It is estimated that 14,000 men are affected.

NOTED SCIENTIST AND ELECTRICAL WIZARD IS DEAD

Heart Failure Causes Death of Charles P. Steinmetz

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 26. The body of Dr. Charles Proteus Steinmetz, inventor, scientist, mathematician and electrical wizard, who died here this morning of heart failure induced by the fatigue of a trip to the Pacific Coast, tomorrow will lie in his home in state for public reverence. On Monday afternoon after private funeral services the body will be interred in Vale Cemetery in the heart of the city.

The inventor died at his home at a time when his friends had supposed he had well recovered from a lecture trip which greatly had drained his strength. He was not accustomed to addressing large assemblies and the strain of the speaking combined with the fatigue of the journey, aggravated a heart weakness.

Arriving in this country from Germany 30 years ago as a political refugee—a mechanical engineer with $10 and no job—Dr. Steinmetz, by reputation became one of the highest, if not the highest salaried electrical experts in the world. That it was chiefly by reputation, however, was indicated today when friends in a position to know said the inventor's estate probably would not exceed $25,000 if it reached that figure.

Dr. Steinmetz, it was learned, was not on the payroll of the General Electric company, nor was his salary ever estimated. The company built and maintained laboratories for him at the Schenectady Works and at his home, paid his expenses for experiments and for his living—and the inventor asked no more. His spacious home was maintained chiefly for his adopted son and family, the son caring for details of home upkeep and the son's wife executing the missions of charity which the inventor directed.

Children and child welfare work particularly interested Steinmetz and he often aided and supported child welfare legislation and contributed to welfare work in this and other cities.

RESEARCH BUREAU FOR FARMER HELP

CLEVELAND, Oct. 26.—To put the American farmer back on his feet the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers which closed its annual convention here today has established a research department thru which it hopes to remedy the farm labor shortage which threatens to break down farm production.

"Some 2,800,000 farms hire outside help in normal times said Finley Mount of Chicago, executive chairman in presenting the plan to representatives of 250 manufacturers and 16,000 local dealers.

"The 1919 census showed that American farm hands cost the farmer in wages and board over a billion and a third dollars annually.

"Government figures reveal that under the pressure of labor shortage farm labor has been affected in two ways—abandonment of farm lands east of the Mississippi river where building have been the biggest magnets, and increasing wages averaging around 20 per cent over last year with the tendency still upwards and no relief in sight."

FARMERS PROBLEMS TO BE DISCUSSED

MONMOUTH, Ill., Oct. 26.—The series of congressional district meetings which was opened a month ago by the Illinois Agricultural association to discuss the farmers' problems closed with a meeting here today. The meetings indicated that Illinois Farmers believe the "farmer is the only one who can solve the farmers' problems," and that "they cannot be solved by political action primarily," according to S. H. Thompson of Quincy, president of the association.

VOTE TO CONTINUE FIGHT ON FRAUDS

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Officers of the Advertisers and Investors Protective Bureau, Inc., elected at a meeting here today, pledged themselves to continue to fight financial frauds of every kind in Illinois, paying special attention to the bucketshop situation.

Benjamin F. Taylor, chairman of the new executive committee, said Chicago now is virtually cleared of bucketshops owing to the recent drastic campaign carried on by city and state officials, adding that the situation will be closely guarded in the future.

EVANGELINE BOOTH UNDERGOES OPERATION

New York, Oct. 26.—Commander Evangeline Booth, leader of the Salvation Army in the United States, underwent a third operation today after having undergone two others recently for removal of abscesses in the nasal passage.

The third operation was for an abscess of the ear. Physicians reported her condition was not alarming but said she would not be out of danger for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schneider have returned home after visiting with his sister, Mrs. Allen Franz in this city.

STATE CONFERENCE ON PUBLIC HEALTH HOLDS INTERESTING SESSION

Valuable Addresses Given By Several Noted Speakers

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Oct. 26.—Urging the establishment of county public health service in every county of Illinois as the true solution of the health problem of the rural communities and smaller cities, Dr. W. F. Draper of Washington addressed the state conference on public health here tonight.

Dr. Draper is assistant surgeon general of the United States department of public health. He came in answer to a request from the conference when Dr. Allen W. Freeman of John Hopkins University the scheduled speaker, was detained by illness.

Dr. Draper said that whereas in 1900 there was no county health service in the United States there are now 231 counties in which such service is established and in every case is working with admirable satisfaction to the tax payers and improvement of the health in rural communities and smaller cities.

Dr. W. A. Evans of Chicago presided at this part of the conference whose general subject was "county health officers."

The other part of the evening was devoted to a discussion of "the community and its mental health," with the address by Dr. Larson Lowrey of St. Paul. This session was presided over by Dr. Ralph Pruitt of Chicago. In the afternoon S. W. Searle, assistant director of the state department of public welfare spoke before the parole society.

Has Ideal Law

"This state comes nearer to having an ideal indeterminate sentence law than any state in the union," he said, "and its administration has produced more satisfactory results. But an ideal law would require one against which a minimum nor maximum period of incarceration. The time may come when such a law may be passed, but it will not be until such time as public sentiment shall have ceased to demand vengeance."

M. J. Karp, superintendent of the Jewish Social Service Bureau of Chicago, told of the cooperation of the bureau with the division of paroles and pardons, commencing pardons in some cases and using against others in others. He was followed by Will Colvin, Superintendent of Paroles and Pardons, who said that in not one case has the bureau shown partiality toward the Jewish race and that it has been a great help to the state board.

Dr. William A. Evans, of Chicago, addressed another sectional meeting in the afternoon on the methods of controlling milk supply. He urged more stringent milk ordinances, and the eventual passage of a state law insuring pure milk.

ARMY AND NAVY MAY BE JOINED IN PLANS FOR NEW DEPARTMENT

Would Be Under Head of National Defense if Changed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Consolidation of the department of national defense as provided in the government reorganization plan worked out by the commission engaged in a study of that proposal probably will not be approved by President Coolidge.

The reorganization plan was taken up today by President Coolidge and his cabinet and although the proposal of merging the war and navy departments was not reached it became known that the president would hesitate to recommend such a consolidation in passing the general plan on to congress for necessary legislative action.

Consolidation of the war and navy departments has been opposed by a board of army and navy officers and also has failed to receive the approval of the present secretaries of the two departments. The president believes that while such a merger may be logical, yet changes in governmental institutions cannot always follow logical policies but oftentimes must be made dependent on history and governmental growth.

Mr. Coolidge furthermore believes that even should later study convince him that consolidation of the war and navy departments is feasible and advantageous it should be provided in a separate piece of legislation because of its importance rather than combined with a general reorganization scheme.

FAMOUS TEAPOT OIL DOME CASE UP FOR AIRING

Naval Secretary Re- called by Committee for Examination

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Secretary Denby of the Navy was recalled by the senate public lands committee today for further examination in connection with the teapot dome oil reserve case to the Sinclair Oil interests. Other witnesses before the committee were naval officers summoned to give their views on the soundness of the policy of transferring the administration of the three naval reserves to the interior department.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, read into the record several letters written by Captain John Halligan, Jr., who until recently was connected with the teapot dome oil reserve case, to the Naval Academy. These letters, addressed to the secretary of the navy presented the opposing of Captain Halligan to the leasing of the reserves.

Department's Stand

When Secretary Denby replied by reading a letter he had addressed to the officer setting forth the position of his department, Senator Walsh insisted that the letter had been prepared at the interior department for Mr. Denby's signature. The secretary said he could not inform the committee who had written the letter he had signed, but that he wanted to protest against officers of the navy questioning the good faith of other officers of the government.

Captain Halligan in one of his letters called attention to the recommendation of the Naval Consulting Board that nothing be done to prevent the naval reserves to be taken from the navy. With the opening up of the reserves to drilling under leases the government he predicted in ten years would be dependent upon foreign governments for fuel oil supplies for the navy and its flying machines. He insisted that while the United States was permitting a waste of its oil reserves, Great Britain and Japan, its two principal naval competitors, were serving their petroleum supplies.

Declaring that the interior department policy was one of exploitation and not conservation, he said naval officers generally were shocked when they learned that Teapot Dome had been leased to the Sinclair interests.

Secretary Denby told the committee he had not decided whether he would make reply to the criticisms of Captain Halligan, but he said he wanted to enter emphatic denial of any intimation that the present policy of the navy department with regard to navy oil reserve would not result in more oil being made available for the navy than would have been recovered had the reserves been indefinitely drained by private wells upon adjacent lands.

PLANS TO REBUILD AIR HIGHWAYS

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Plans to put America "first" in commercial aviation thru a national organization for co-ordination of development of air highways were begun here today by a committee meeting of civic leaders, and transportation chiefs called by the Chicago Association of Commerce to consider the future of aeronautics.

Permanent air highways to all sections of the country air defense and plans for a unified system of commercial flying for both passengers and freight traffic were considered.

An organization committee, headed by Benjamin L. Gage, a committee chairman of the Chicago Association of Commerce was appointed to perfect the national working scheme.

WASHINGTON ELM FALLS TO GROUND

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 26.—The old Washington Elm, under whose wide-spread limbs 148 years ago in 1775, George Washington assumed command of the Continental Army, crashed to earth tonight as workmen were beginning to remove limbs which had become a menace to the safety of the public.

Despite every effort to save it the last spark of life faded from the aged tree last summer. Shorn of most of its limbs by the storms of a hundred and fifty years the solitary elm on the roadway beside Cambridge Common had stood through the autumn with an air of solemn dignity, awaiting its final disposal. Tonight when the workmen tugged too hard on a nearly sawed off limb, the ancient trunk split and fell.

election. He is right about this proposition.
People hereabout have no real experience with gas and oil wells but certainly the indications now are strong that a real gas field is to be developed about nine miles northeast of Jacksonville.
Three wells there certainly show a huge gas pressure and no doubt well will speedily be drilled. Experienced men say that it is very unusual indeed to find gas in such quantities at such comparatively shallow depth.
With the field proven, certainly some means will speedily be found for piping the gas to Jacksonville. The advent of a big supply of natural gas will mean the industrial growth which Jacksonville needs and has been seeking.

IMMIGRATION CONSPIRACIES
It is known that considerable numbers of immigrants are leaking into the United States across the northern and southern borders, avoiding the established ports of entry and eluding the immigration officers. Representative A. J. C. of Louisiana, who has been studying the immigration question in Europe, charges that there are leaks also in the operation of our official immigration machinery, with the active co-operation of European governments and charitable organizations.
They are conspiring, he says,
to keep their desirable citizens at home and ship the undesirables here for Uncle Sam to take care of. The law is evaded, he explains, by bribing American citizens of foreign birth to certify that they are relatives of the would-be immigrants and will see that the latter do not become public charges.
It is said, but doubtless true, that naturalized citizens frequently abuse their citizenship by certifying falsely in this way.
Whether foreign governments really participate in such a conspiracy is more difficult to believe, but the matter at least deserves looking into. If there is anything of the sort going on it will be necessary to make the immigrant barriers still higher and tighter, and to scrutinize prospective immigrants more closely before they start for this country.

CHEAP FUEL
Edison backs Steinhilber in predicting that we are close to the day when coal—instead of being shipped to consumers at great transportation cost and effort—will be converted into electricity at the mines.
The coal would run big engines which in turn would operate generators of current to be sent over high-tension wires to a country on an electrical basis.
That would make life easier—simply turning the switch for cooking and heating. Not so easy, really to get such a system into operation at a price that would put the coal dealer out of business.
A different solution of the coal problem was predicted recently by Floyd W. Parsons, making a speech to gas manufacturers. Parsons thinks this:
"Eventually every ton of coal mined in the United States will have all heat units converted into gas, which will be distributed through pipes to homes, mills and factories."

We may pass through a Gas
Age before we reach the Electric Age. Already there are more than nine million gas meters (perpetual motion machines, according to Rodger Dolan) in America. In the last 12 months, gas companies added 400,000 customers to their books.
There is difference of opinion as to whether coal at the mines should be converted into gas or electricity. But it's almost unanimously agreed by economists and other experts, that shipment of coal to consumers is too costly. A startling change is coming here. Our generation may live to see it.

even heavier than anticipated.
For 16 weeks car loadings exceeded 1,000,000 cars a week, yet since June there has always been a surplus of cars in good condition available for more traffic. The peak week ended Sept. 29 its loadings reached 1,977,000 cars. On Sept. 29, however, there was a gross surplus of about 41,000 cars.

Obviously there has been more efficient routing of cars, more prompt handling of loads and greater foresight in providing cars to meet the demand and preparing for emergency needs.
These things have been done in spite of the fact that the total number of cars of revenue freight loaded in the 39 weeks from Jan.
1 through Sept. 29 was 10 percent greater than for the same period in 1922, 28 percent greater than for 1921, and 19 percent greater than for that period last year.

The railroads deserve due credit for this phase of their public service.

NEW DESSERTS

Desserts are often the bane of a housekeeper's existence. The family wants pie and more pie, and so many puddings seem so elaborate and call for so many ingredients that the majority rules and the sweet course remains pie. These desserts are ideal for between seasons, are simple and may be new to you.

Banana Whip
Four large ripe bananas, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cup hickorynut meats, 1 tablespoon preserved cherry syrup, 1-2 cup whipping cream.
Lightly scrape the surface of the bananas with the dull side of a silver knife. This thin coating contains an acid that is hard to digest. Rub through a fine strainer. Add lemon juice, sugar, salt, nuts and cherry syrup. Mix well and chill. Serve, masked with whipped cream and garnished with preserved cherries drained from their syrup.

Cocoa Marshmallow Pudding
One-fourth cup cocoa, 3 tablespoons cornstarch, 1-2 cup sugar, 2 cups milk, 4 tablespoons strong coffee, 1-8 teaspoon butter, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, marshmallows.
Combine cornstarch, cocoa, sugar, and salt with coffee heated to the boiling point. Stir into milk and cook over hot water for half an hour. Stir in butter and let cool. When cool add vanilla. Turn into a glass baking dish to chill and become firm. When wanted to serve, cover with marshmallows cut in halves; put in a hot oven to brown the mallow.

Orange pudding is nourishing as well as sweet. A dessert containing eggs and milk has a definite amount of food value

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES
The plans for this year's lypleted, by the high school. The course this year is more diversified than the usual lyceum course.

This has been made possible by the independent purchase of attractions. Season tickets are now on sale by the students.
The following are the attractions with dates of appearance:
Tuesday, Nov. 6—The Belmont Players presenting the complete play "Out in the Night." Monday Dec. 3—People We Meet a Message of Optimism
by Mr. Robert L. Kemple.
Tuesday Jan. 29—The Quilen Concert Co., in a program of music, characterizations, and plays.
Saturday evening the girls of the high school entertain the boys at a Halloween social. An exceedingly interesting program has been planned. Miss Frances Brooks is faculty sponsor in planning the social.
Attendance at high school has been exceptionally regular this year. This speaks well for the school and is an indication of the growing popularity of a high school education.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

HELLO PROSPERITY!
TERPSICHOEANS MAKE
FOR SPEEDY ENTERTAINMENT

The Marcus Show, "Hello Prosperity," is the fastest entertainment that one can imagine. Much of the celerity with which the performance is accomplished may be attributed to the prevalence of dancing specialists. There are no less than fifteen principal terpsichorean artists with the big harlequinade, which comes to the Grand today for matinee and night.

Among the foremost of those to whom the celerity of the entertainment may be attributed is Mlle. Cleo, shapely of form and graceful in carriage. Mlle. Cleo's "Cleopatra" offering is an exotic and opulent dance episode from the misty past of history in which all the glory of the ancient mistress of the Nile is unfolded to prosaic occidentals of the modern age. No peppier moment exists in the entire show than during Mlle. Cleo's cabaret dance at the finale of the first act. An Indian number is also offered by this accomplished dancer.

Stanley & Byrnes are rare travesty artists whose delicious ideas of the ridiculous find expression in dancing form. Their satire on "Cleopatra" is one of the brightest moments of the performance. Their efforts have aptly been compared to a combination of the work of Montgomery & Stone in "Wizard of Oz" days and George Primrose in his prime.

POSSE HELD AT BAY BY OUTLAWS AFTER BOLD BANK ROBBERY

Now Barricaded in Dense Timber—Call Made for Help

EFFINGHAM, Ill., Oct. 26.—A posse of deputy sheriffs and citizens tonight were combing the countryside near here for three bandits who robbed the State Bank of Commerce of approximately $6,000 and escaped this morning.

Matt Sabers, sheriff of Effingham county, received a report late today that the bandits were seen in a thicket of timber ten miles southeast of here. He organized a large posse of deputy sheriffs, citizens and police officers of surrounding towns and scoured the wooded section but failed to find any trace of the robbers.

A report that the bandits were holding at bay the posse and had barricaded themselves in the timber was found to be untrue.

The robbery occurred this morning shortly after the time lock on the vault was released. The three bandits, unmasked and flourishing pistols, entered the bank and compelled David B. Crews, vice-president and the cashier, the only persons in the bank to lie face down on the floor. One of the bandits stood guard over the men while the other two systematically rifled every drawer and depository in the bank.

The bandits were frightened when a customer appeared and they hastily disappeared with two sacks containing the money. They ran out of the bank to an automobile the motor of which had been left running and sped away.

HAITI CONTROLS DRUG TRAFFIC

Port-Au-Prince, Haiti. (By the A. P.)—The Haitian Council of State has passed a law to regulate and control the exportation, importation, possession, use or sale of narcotics, poisons and habit-forming drugs in Haiti.

The specific purpose of this legislation is to prevent the possible use of Haiti by German firms as a base for the distribution of narcotics. Previously there was no law of any description bearing on the narcotic problem and Germany, not being a signatory to the Opium Convention, was steadily increasing its imports of such substances. The passage of the act has made Haiti eligible as a signatory to this convention.

The new law is based on that which controls the use of narcotics in the United States, with certain modifications to fit local conditions.

Morgan County Poets UNDER THE LEAVES

Some while ago we walked beneath
The happy trees, a glorious wreath
Of varied greens, dew-pitted leaves,
That soothed our many trysting eyes.

Alas, their gaiety is fled;
Not the living but the dead
Now they shelter, once and then Churned by winds or feet of men.

The green leaves watched us climb the hill
The dead leaves huddle low and still;
Fragrant leaves of bliss, tomorrow
Sere and bitter leaves of sorrow.

Green leaves hid our loves in May;
Dead, they wait to hide our clay.
Time's a mammoth cave that weaves
Echoes, echoes of dead leaves.

The United States army, navy and Marine Corps are working on plans for a great war game in January, 1924. Operating from the Island of Culebra, in the Caribbean, the most complete naval force organized under the American flag since the World War will defend the eastern approaches of the Panama Canal.

During the World War, one winner of the Croix de Guerre was Sergeant O. W. Leader, pure Indian of Oklahoma. He was selected by the French government as the model original American soldier, of whom an oil painting was made to hang upon the walls of the French federal building with those of all Allied races.

The bodies of American soldiers who fell on French battlefields during the World War have now all been brought into several large cemeteries, where they will lie permanently, unless later transferred to the United States. Work has now begun on the beautification of the cemeteries, grading the lawns and planting trees and shrubbery.

The Legion of Valor, composed exclusively of men who have received the Distinguished Service Cross and the Congressional Medal of honor for gallantry in battle, recently held its thirty-second annual convention in New York city. The members are veterans of the World War, the Spanish War, the Civil War and some who saw action in the Boxer Rebellion.

cepted the principle of an advisory conference of experts.

France's Consent
France's consent to enter the advisory conference of experts will involve the question of acceptance of the American principle that the interallied debts and German reparations must be divorced a point upon which Premier Poincare heretofore has differed from Great Britain and the United States.

France will also have to face the question of reducing the amount of indemnity expected from Germany under the Versailles treaty which in the past has been fixed at 6,500,000,000 pounds sterling or 132,000,000,000 gold marks. This sum, and the question of granting a moratorium to Germany were the points which led to the failure of the last expert bankers' commission.

British officials seem to favor Berlin as the principal seat of the conference.

GAS FLOW INCREASES IN THE BIG WELL

Will be Drilled in Monday Morning — Public is Invited to be Present.

Several Jacksonville business men drove out to the Irwin-Pease gas field northeast of the city yesterday morning. Mr. Irwin expected to drill the big gas well No. 3 further into the sand but because of some conditions and unfavorable weather postponed this matter until Monday morning.

The well was recapped yesterday with the utmost difficulty and local citizens who saw the operation were astounded at the flow of gas. The first well drilled on the Harris farm made a tremendous roar when turned on. In well No. 3 the pipe is five inches in diameter and the gas pressure is about three times as heavy as from the first well. This fact gives some idea of the size of this gas find.

The well will be drilled in Monday morning unless the weather is rainy and the people of Jacksonville are cordially invited to drive out to the field and see the well before it is finally capped. The pressure is so strong that the tools which weigh two tons show some resulting movement and if the pressure increases it will not be possible to drill deeper.

There is every indication that the field has an ample supply for Jacksonville and the next problem will be the building of a pipe line from the field to the city.

THE EMPORIUM

IN THE COUNTY COURT

In the county court yesterday Ralph Hudson, who was arrested by deputy sheriffs with two quarts of whiskey in his possession entered a plea of guilty to the charge of transporting liquor. Hudson, who is an over-50-year-old veteran, explained to the court that he is not in good health and he under a physician's care.

Under all the circumstances Judge Samuel used clemency and fined the defendant $200, a capias pro fine to issue, which will mean that the fine need not be paid if there are no more offenses of the kind on the part of the defendant.

ALTON INTERESTED IN C. P. ROAL

C. & A. Officials to Inspect The Road— May Buy Property to Prevent Competition From Acquiring Certain Parts.

It is said that W. G. Bied and W. W. Wheelock, receivers of the C. & A. and some of the directors of the road will make an inspection of a part of the C. P. & St. L. road today. The Bloomington Pantagraph gives the following story about reported C. & A. interest in the C. P.:

"There has been considerable conjecture concerning the fate of the C. P. & St. L., and determined efforts are being made to save it from suspension. The line between Peoria and Springfield appears to be the stumbling block, the heavy grades preventing profitable operation. However, this might be overcome by the substitution of motor cars for steam power."

"The Alton management is believed to favor the acquisition of the Grafton line from Alton to Grafton and which would connect admirably with the present extension of the Eldred branch to Nutwood, ten miles north of Grafton. The Alton could also use the portion of the line which taps the coal fields of Springfield, and which furnish heavy revenue. While the Alton might not be able to operate the C. P. & St. L. profitably yet the absorption by the "Only Way" might prevent a troublesome competing road from securing possession."

FRANK CHANCE CHOSEN TO LEAD WHITE SOX

Former Cub Manager and Player Will Lead White Sox the Coming Year—Was a Member of Famous "Tinker to Evers to Chance" Combination.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26. —(A.P.)—Frank Chance, manager of the Boston Americans last season and a former pilot of the Chicago Cubs tonight was selected to succeed "Kid" Gleason as manager of the Chicago White Sox.

"Chance, famous as the 'Peerless Leader' of the old Cub machine, came to terms with Harry Grabiner, business manager of the White Sox after a long distance telephone conference. Chance, at his home in Los Angeles, accepted the conditions of the contract which will run for one year. The contract will be formally signed when the club owners of the American League convene here in December for the annual meeting.

Chance made his name and fortune in baseball, when he managed the now gone but not forgotten Cub machine—a machine that won four pennants and two world championships in five seasons.

In 1906 Chance piloted the Cubs to the National League championship but lost the world's series to the White Sox. In 1907 and 1908 the Cubs defeated the Tigers for the world's championship and in 1910 the famous machine, then going to pieces, won its last National League flag and was outclassed by the Athletics in the World's Series.

The new White Sox pilot, a member of that famous combination—Tinker to Evers to Chance—came to the Cubs in the spring of 1898 after playing College baseball. For five years he played in the outfield and behind the bat, and in 1903 went to first base where he remained until the end of his playing days.

In 1905 Frank Selee, because of ill health resigned as manager of the team and Chance was named to succeed him. When Charles W. Murphy acquired the club, a few days were engineered and the Cubs started on their sensational career. Before the season of 1912 came to a close Chance and Murphy came to a parting of the ways. After a bitter fight Murphy scored the decisive blow when he waived his once "Peerless Leader" to the Cincinnati club for the price of $1,500. Johnny Evers succeeded Chance as manager but remained only during the 1913 season.

The Cincinnati Club had no place for Chance who obtained his release when offered the management of the New York Yankees. The Yankees signed him for three years at a reported salary of $25,000 a year, but before the season of 1914 was over Chance realizing the hopelessness of his position resigned and retired to his orange grove at Glendora, California.

From 1914 until last spring, Chance remained out of baseball except for a year with the Los Angeles Club. He accepted the offer of the management of the Boston Red Sox last winter but was released before the 1923 season was completed. His contract was only for one year however and his release was not due.

GAME CANCELLED WITH ALTON HIGH

Action is Taken on Account of Serious Condition of Palmer Hunt, Quarterback and Captain of Team.

Coach Mitchell of Jacksonville high school announced last night that the game scheduled for today with Alton high on the college field has been cancelled.

This action was taken by the high school team out of respect to Palmer Hunt who is now in Passavant hospital in a very critical condition. Hunt was quarterback and captain of the team and has been one of the athletic mainstays in the local high ever since entering the school, and is also considered one of the best quarterbacks in interscholastic circles in Illinois. It was officially reported last night that he is apparently losing rapidly.

HARMON'S MEN LEAVE FOR BRADLEY GAME

Expects One of Hardest Games of Season—Two Full Teams Make Trip to Peoria.

Coach Harmon will leave this morning over the Chicago & Alton, taking two full teams with him for Peoria where Illinois College will battle with Bradley this afternoon on Bradley field, in what is considered one of the hardest games of the season for the locals.

With Captain Riess back in line the Blue and White will enter the game at about their normal strength. In last Saturday's game Illinois defeated Normal by a 7 to 0 score, while Bradley was whipped by Lombard 13 to 7. If this fact can be taken as any indication Illinois should stand some show of coping the game, but Coach Harmon has never considered that it will be easy money, but has the belief as above indicated that they will have to fight all the way if they get away with the heavy end of the count.

"Folks from Way Down East," Westminster, Sunday night, with sermon.

to any dissatisfaction over his work. The Red Sox finished last but Chance holds the distinction of winning sixty one games with the club, which is said to be a record number of victories for a last place team.

Kid Gleason resigned as manager of the White Sox after winning the city series from the Cubs this year, because, he said, he was discouraged with his attempt to rebuild the team wrecked as a result of the world series scandal of 1919.

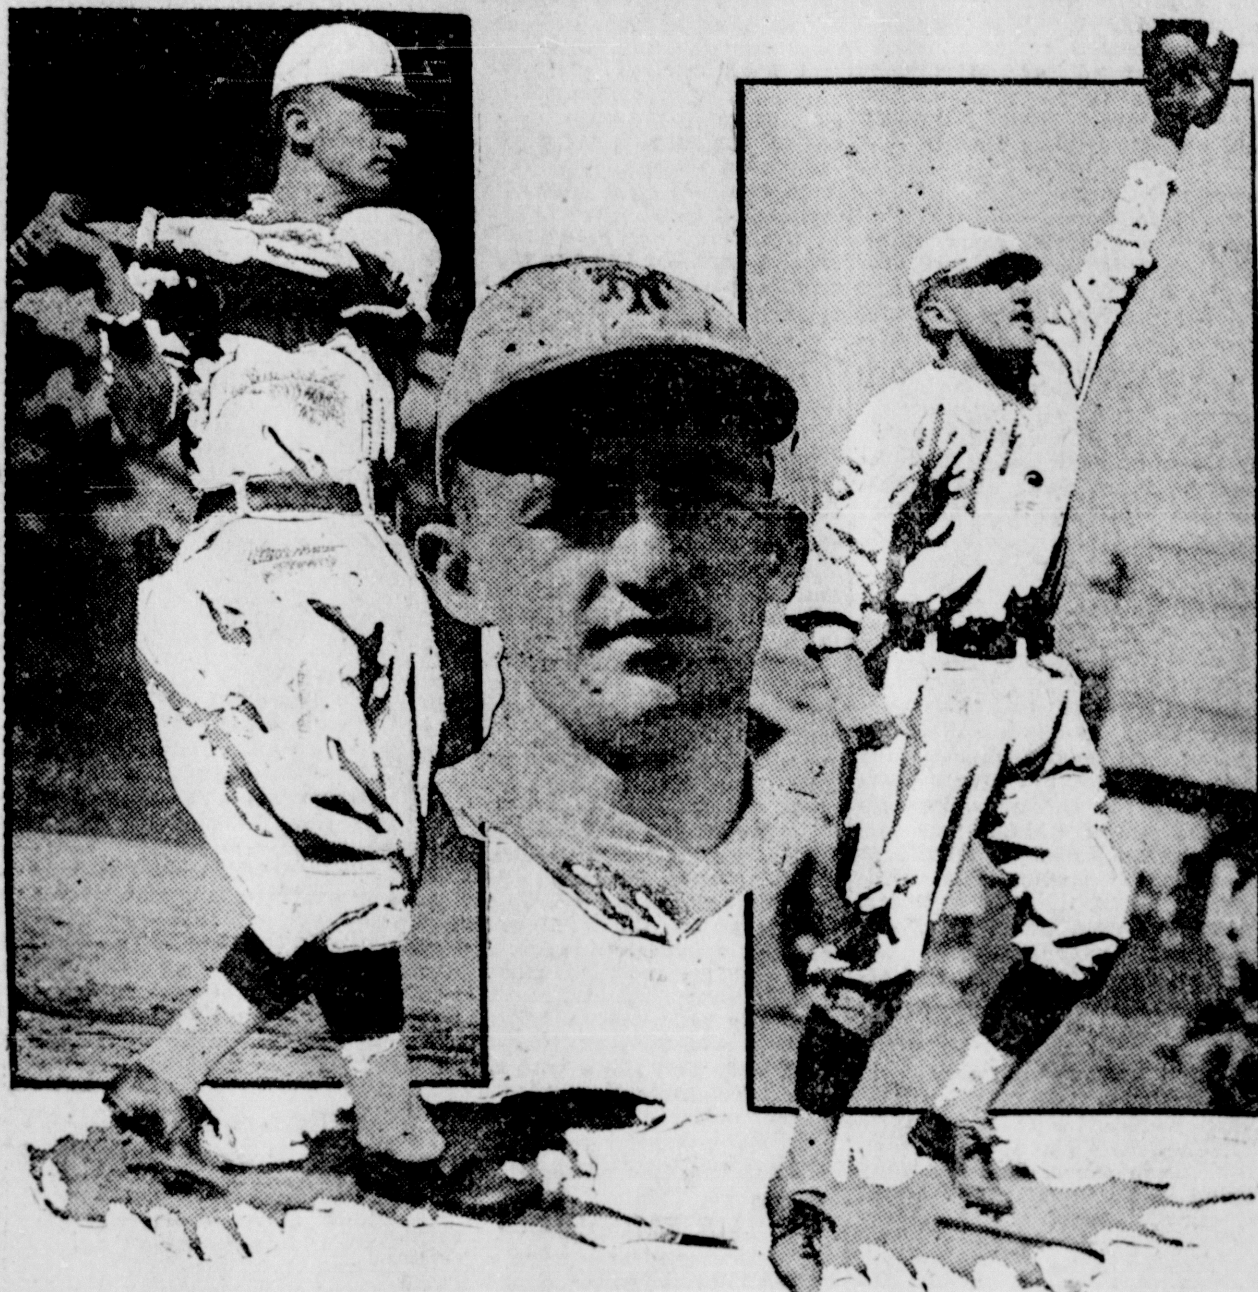

Gleason was manager of the White Sox for six years and was identified with the club as assistant manager and coach under the leadership of Clarence Rowland.

Frisch, Baseball's Greatest Star

GIANTS' CRACK PLAYER TAKES PLACE WITH COBB AND SISLER

MR. FRISCH, HIMSELF, BATTING, FIELDING AND "LOOKING PRETTY"

With Ty Cobb having passed the peak of his game and the future of George Sisler uncertain, Frankie Frisch of the New York Giants looms up as baseball's greatest all-around star.

For years Ty Cobb has reigned supreme in baseball. Experts regard him as the greatest player of all time. A few years back Father Time started to get in his work and Tyros the great began to slip a trifle. That was to be expected. Cobb despite his greatness, is only human and couldn't go on forever.

Enter George Sisler as the logical successor for Cobb's crown. The great first sacker of the St. Louis Browns had earned the right to the title of the game's greatest star, when an affliction of the eye cut short his career. Sisler did not play a single game last season. His career as a player is still shrouded in uncertainty.

Frisch is Marvel.

With the veteran Cobb out of the running, and Sisler in doubt, the honor of being rated the game's greatest all-around player must be passed to Frisch.

The work of Frankie Frisch in the 1923 series between the Yankees and the Giants was nothing short of remarkable. He starred in the field and at the bat. He made a dozen seemingly impossible plays in the field, and at the bat was a constant source of annoyance to the Yankee pitchers.

Frisch is a natural batsman. He is a shift hitter. In terms of base ball that means he bats either from the right or left side of the plate. Frisch prefers to bat left handed and always does so when a right-handed pitcher opposes the Giants. Against south paws he shifts to the right side of the plate.

Real Speed Merchant.

It is impossible for the opposition to play for Frisch. He is a place hitter, driving the balls to all fields according to the style of the pitcher and the position of the opposing outfield. His style is far more graceful as a left hander than right. Batting right handed he assumes a rather peculiar crouch position.

Unquestionably Frisch is the fastest man in the National Baseball League, if not both leagues. His only rival in this respect is Archdeacon of the Chicago White Sox. There is little to choose between the two.

In the field his work is uncanny. He goes to his right or left with equal ease and his great speed enables him to cover a wide range of territory. It takes a mighty fast hit ball to elude his grasp. Since the very first time I saw Frisch in action I marveled at his all-around ability. After watching him for six games in the recent world series, I am convinced that he is the greatest all-around performer in the game. He doesn't seem to have a single weakness.

Players of the Cobb, Sisler and Frisch type are a decided variety.

KANSAS U. MEETS KANSAS AGGIES TODAY

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 26.—The University of Kansas-Kansas Aggies clash at Lawrence promises to be the outstanding game of the Missouri Valley conference football play tomorrow. In the opinion of followers of the game the contest is a toss up.

Both of the Kansas rivals have defeated Creighton on home grounds by scores of 6 to 0 and the dope puts them about a par. Nebraska will visit Missouri at Columbia and are hoped to win from the Tigers. Ames will be in St. Louis for their clash with Washington University and should score an easy win in view of the Washingtons overwhelming defeat at the hands of Oklahoma last week.

Drake and Grinnell will play at Grinnell in the remaining conference game of the day. Oklahoma will play a non-conference game in its contest with Oklahoma Aggies at Norman.

OVER 7,000 STADIUM SEATS ON HAND

Urbana, Ill.—More than 7,000 seats in the Illinois Stadium for the Chicago game next Saturday remain as Manager Beach's ticket office starts the last week.

Tickets have been selling at a clip of 1,000 a day and this would indicate that there will be available tickets up to the time of the game. Wise fans of course will not take any chances.

Manager Beach issued a warning: "Don't take any stock in rumors that we are all sold out. Whenever all tickets are gone Director Huff will issue a statement over his signature. Before every game a story spreads that there is no tickets when often there is a supply."

Practically All of Major Elevens Have Casualty List Which May Have Bearing on Today's Games

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. (By the A. P.)—With practically all the major elevens unable to muster their full first string strength chiefly because of an unusually heavy casualty list eastern college football faces tomorrow its mid-season tests, including several of the keynote engagements of the fall.

Prominent among games holding the center of the eastern gridiron stage are those between Penn State and West Virginia in the Yankee Stadium; Harvard and Dartmouth at Cambridge; Princeton and the Naval Academy at Baltimore; Pennsylvania and Centre at Philadelphia; Yale and Brown at New Haven and Columbia and Williams at New York.

Five important contests of intercollegiate character also illuminate the program. Besides the clash between Penn and Centre's "praying colonels," they include the contests between Oberlin and Amherst at Amherst, Mass.; Marquette of Milwaukee, and Boston college, at Boston; Washington and Jefferson and Detroit university at Detroit and Colgate and Ohio Wesleyan at Hamilton, N. Y.

ROUTT WILL MEET COLLEGE RESERVES

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon Routt high will tackle coach Harmon's reserves who did not go to Bradley. Coach Coonan has had a large squad out this week and has drilled the team hard. Not much is known of the college reserves except that they will have several pounds edge in weight but lack in experience. There will be several changes in Routt's lineup. Sehy will play at half and Martch at right end. Captain Gebert is still out of the game with a bum knee.

Following are the probable lineups:

Illinois College	Pos.	Routt

SAVE GRANGE? ZUP MAY TRY TO TODAY

URBANA, Ill.—Can Zuppke's Illinois beat Northwestern without the services of Harold Grange? Even the most optimistic Illinois do not think so but they do hope that he will not be needed all the game.

Stories from Evanston of how the impersonator of Grange in scrimmage has been knocked cold and carried off, intimate a warm even ethical reception for the Wheaton flash.

Zuppke has a fair halfback in Rune Clark, who may start instead of Grange or may replace him if the Illinois should be so fortunate as to get the game on ice early. But Illinois will have such a patched up lineup that many campfollowers believe the Illinois will be lucky to scratch out.

On the face of it, this sounds foolish but there is no doubt but that Illinois is overrated.

Zuppke will probably start his team:

Roberts, 178, left tackle.
McMillen, Captain, 208, left g.
Green, 178, center.
Miller, 196, or Chambers 190, right guard.
Crawford, 178, right tackle.
Richards, 166, right end.
Hall, 160, quarterback.
Grange 166, or Clark 166, left half.
McIlwain, 175, right half.
Britton, 198, full back.

Crawford and Roberts, two youngsters, thus appear as tackle and the purple may take advantage of their inexperience. Big Dick Hall will be lucky if he is able to play in shape against Chicago. The giant Hoosier has had stomach trouble.

The Illinois record against Northwestern is reassuring except that the Purple on several occasions has ruined dreams of a championship.

BRADSTREET'S REPORT
NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say: "Despite irregularities due to weather conditions or the urge of conservatism the latter bred largely by price uncertainty the general volume of trade and the peace of industry is fairly well maintained and apparently about equal to this time a year ago, when it will be recalled, business was moving forward in about the best volume reached since the spring of 1920. "Warm weather early in the week, with heavy rains in wide areas midway of that period and cold bracing atmospheres later on have tended to lend an irregular appearance to retail trade, which needs expression. Jobbing trade, on immediate delivery is reported about as good as at any time this fall. Trade in primary channels is under the check-rein of conservatism as regards spring and beyond."

COMMUNITY MEETING AT HARMONY SCHOOL

Dr. R. V. Brokaw Addressed Meeting Held Under Auspices of Parent-Teacher Association of Harmony School.

An open meeting of the Parent-Teacher association of the Harmony school in the Joy Prairie neighborhood was held Friday evening, with Dr. R. V. Brokaw, county health officer, as the speaker. The association meetings are usually held in the afternoon but this community meeting was arranged for the evening in order that there might be a larger attendance.

Mrs. R. E. Nickel, president of the association, presided. Following the address came a social hour during which refreshments were served in the basement. In the course of his remarks, Dr. Brokaw mentioned the fact that Harmony school is one of the best country schools he has ever visited in point of lighting, heating and sanitary facilities.

The speaker referred to the modern tendency to conserve the national resources of the country and said this idea has been developed to include the conservation of human life. He mentioned the fact that as matters now stand one child in every seven or eight is destined to die before a year old, and that half of the deaths are preventable. It was his statement that medical science has made great advances in the prevention of disease and the reduction of the death rate. The death rate from diphtheria has been greatly reduced by the use of anti-toxin, and the more recent introduction of toxin-antitoxin methods of immunization against this disease promises to produce even greater results in decreasing the number of cases. Reference was also made to the results of the warfare against smallpox and typhoid fever as well as malaria and yellow fever. Dr. Brokaw said that in the Spanish-American war six soldiers died from disease while one was killed by bullets of the enemy. In the recent war, because of improved sanitation and general vaccination of troops against typhoid, one died from disease as against one death due to actual combat.

In the sixteenth century, the speaker said, the average length of life was 21 years, and in the nineteenth century this has been increased to thirty nine, and by continued emphasis upon public health measures and education in personal hygiene the normal span of life will become even greater.

Dr. Brokaw explained the methods of the health department in handling communicable diseases in the school and made the statement that except in extreme cases it was advisable to keep the school going as by this means the children may be kept under more close observation. In closing the speaker made reference to the general activities of the Morgan county health department and mentioned some of the things it is hoped to do as increased funds become available, making it possible to extend the work into the various communities and among the schools of the county.

NEAR EAST CONDITIONS DESCRIBED TO CLUB

Rotarians Hear Address on Conditions in Near East by Rev. Isaac Yoman at Friday Luncheon

Rotarians at their luncheon Friday were given a vivid picture of conditions in the Near East by Rev. Isaac Yoman, a brother of Jesse Yoman, who made several addresses here a year since. Rev. Mr. Yoman after securing his education in this country, returned with his brother, a physician, to his native land and their life work has been in the endeavor to aid the suffering Armenian people.

The speaker came to Jacksonville in the interest of the Near East relief work, as the appeal is soon to be made for funds to help in caring for 60,000 Armenian orphans who have not already been helped.

Judge H. P. Samuel presided during the meeting in the absence of the president and vice president. He asked Rev. W. H. Marbach who is Morgan county chairman of the Near East relief work, to introduce the speaker.

Other guests of the day were Arthur Rehfeldt, St. Louis; Carl Roach, Springfield; Rev. H. B. Lewis, Rev. Thomas W. Smith, Rev. W. E. Spoons, Rev. C. D. Robertson, Rev. G. W. Randle, Rev. J. F. Langston, Rev. A. P. Howells, C. A. Goodale, Miller Weir, W. A. Fay, Dr. D. W. Reid and Homer Potter, all of this city.

The club accepted the invitation of Col. O. C. Smith to be his guests at a luncheon next Friday, Nov. 2. Afterward the members of the club plan to attend the football game when the School for the Deaf will meet Routt college.

Rev. Mr. Yoman declared that the sufferings of the Armenians have come to pass because of their faith, their steadfastness in the Christian religion and their unwillingness to embrace Mohammedanism. They have been subjected to Turkish ruthlessness for year upon year and literally millions have been murdered by the Turks.

Much of the present plight of Armenia, the speaker said, is due to the fact that Armenia espoused the cause of the allies. He said that they were at that time promised protection and the right to live in a country all their own, but he said thru subsequent events that contract had been entirely disregarded as Russia and Italy and France had for one reason or another favored Turkey.

When the treaty of Lusanne was written he said the expectation was that there would be some protection afforded for Christian minorities, but for economic reasons related to oil and mineral concessions this provision was never included.

Mr. Yoman spoke of the kindness and generosity of the U. S. toward Armenia and said that the funds contributed here have planted various institutions in the Near East, where thousands and thousands of orphans are being cared for and educated so that they may become leaders of their people. Notwithstanding all the generous work that has been done, much work remains and without still further contributions that have been made in the U. S., 60,000 Armenian orphans must perish this year. It is estimated that $60 will maintain a child for a year and the speaker expressed the hope that when the campaign is made here for aid that people will keep in mind the seriousness of the conditions that prevail.

In the latter part of the evening refreshments were served in keeping with the Halloween season, consisting of doughnuts, pumpkin pie and sweet cider.

Dr. Yoman Told Students About Near East

Dr. Isaac M. Yoman, Assyrian Prince of Persia, who was at one time president of the Euphrates College in Persia and also a representative at the Versailles Peace Conference spoke to the students of Illinois College in chapel yesterday morning. Dr. Yoman is traveling through the United States, giving lectures in an effort to enlighten the people on conditions in the Near East. He spoke yesterday morning on the effect of the war on the Near East.

He first showed on the map the geographical position of the countries composing the Near East, then he spoke of the historical importance of it, stating that it was there that the history of mankind had begun, and that it was, religiously the country, because the morals and religion of the world must beism-originated there. About 600 years ago the Turks appeared in Europe as a conquering race, and the troubles of the Near East date from that time when the Mohammedan Turks began to be boss of the Christian people and persecuted and killed them by the thousands.

In the World War the Near East fought with the Allies with the promise from them that they would be freed from the atrocities of the Turks. In that war the countries of the Near East lost everything, homes were all destroyed, literature and property of all kinds were reduced to a heap of ashes, the people were tortured and killed by the Turks one thousand towns were devastated, over one-third of the population was killed and 90 percent of the children were orphaned and in the end, when there was nothing left but desolation unspeakable the allies, their only hope, failed them.

But all was not lost, for America came forward to clear the debris from the wreck and opened American kitchens to feed the starving people once a day; the American Red Cross sent money to aid them and cared for the children. 100,000 children were snatched from the grave and are now living under the protection of the American flag. 16,000 slave girls were taken from the Turkish harems by the Americans and cared for by them.

Dr. Rammelcamp announced that the librarians would receive all donations which the students wished to make toward this cause and that in the near future a committee will be appointed to see each student individually.

BIG CROWD AT WOODMAN HALL

Local Royal Neighbors Entertain Large Company at Masquerade Party.

About 300 people assembled at the Woodman Hall Friday night at the Royal Neighbors' Halloween Masquerade party, and made merry at dancing and card playing.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion indicative of the Halloween season with autumnal flowers and foliage commingled with a profusion of orange and black paper effectively festooned, which lent a gay festive appearance for the evening's pleasures.

The guests came masked and there were represented all classes of characters and peoples, both from the real and fictitious world. There were officials present ranging from Uncle Sam to the policeman, both ladies and gentlemen of high degree; persons from the land of fairies, and Mother Goose sent her usual delegation; clowns, too, were in evidence, enchanting witches characteristic of Halloween, and among the gay assemblage which represented much thought and ingenuity, there moved a number of ghosts.

At 9 o'clock a grand march was enjoyed after which the masks were removed and the costumes judged. Boxes of candy were presented to Miss Olive Points for having the prettiest masquerade costume, to Miss Amelia Riggs for the most comical and to Miss Alma Peckham for having the best man's costume. Miss Points was beautifully gowned in red tulle, Miss Riggs splendidly impersonated a colored woman and Miss Peckham represented a farm hand.
